SPRING

- Lake Athabasca during ice in the spring.
- View of Meech Lake.
- Community members going out fishing on the beautiful big lake we live off of.
- Spooning, start up.
- Women write letters about events to community, Community pickle fish.
- Women writing letters about events to community.

SUMMER

- Springtime clean up.
- Community Poker Walk.
- School environment for the children.
- A nice calm summer day.
- Fishing daily on Lake Athabasca.
- Winning the water cross in the snow. Beautiful view.

FALL

- Air view of the winter road near the lake. A very rough day.
- Leaves have fallen and the trees are bare.
- New Molicein Lake, the majestic north.
- Winter festival - cultural cookout.
- Winter festival - cultural cookout.

WINTER

- Winter limited—roiled conditions.
- Winter limited—roiled conditions.
- South side of Fond du Lac. The environment is so clean.
- Middle area of Fond du Lac. The environment is so clean.

---

Environment

A Year in the Life of Fond du Lac

Tools 2 – Community health and wellness indicators reflecting daily life in Saskatchewan’s isolated far North: Implications for program planning and evaluation.

RESEARCH TEAM

- Tammy Lidguesne and Flora Anigu – Fond du Lac Denesuline First Nation
- Sylvia Abonyi – SPHERU, University of Saskatchewan
- Bonnie Jeffery – Central European University, Budapest
- Jennifer Poudrier – University of Saskatchewan
- June Anonson – University of Saskatchewan
- Georgina MacDonald, Vince Robillard, Fay Michayluk – Athabasca Health Authority
- Evelyn Timone – Black Lake Denesuline First Nation
- Joanna MacLean – SPHERU, University of Saskatchewan
- Allana Mellis, Romina Naid, and Jennifer Poudrier

Photographers

- Cherina Adam, Noreen Janvier, Tammy Lidguesne, Sylvia Abonyi, Allana Mellis, Romina Naid, and Jennifer Poudrier

Project funded by Canadian Institutes of Health Research (Institute of Aboriginal Peoples’ Health) Grant # 171346.